

the Pediatric & Congenital
Electrophysiology Society

Join us for session #5:

PACES ECHO

Friday April 30th 2021 at 7 AM PST (10 AM EST) (730 PM Indian Standard time) (3 PM UK time, 4 PM Central European Time)

PACES (The Pediatric and Congenital Electrophysiology Society) and ECHO (Extension for Community Health Outcomes) are partnering to “Educate physicians and allied healthcare professionals on how to manage children with arrhythmias”.

Duration: One hour

Frequency: Monthly.

Format: Case-presentation and discussion with audience participation (including questions to audience) with summary and didactic learning points.

Topic for the meeting: Two cases of Wolff Parkinson White syndrome.

Presented by: Team from Karachi, Pakistan.

Faculty: World renowned pediatric arrhythmia specialists. Dr Ed Walsh (Boston Children’s) & Carolina Escudero (University of Alberta, Edmonton Canada).

Any physician or health care provider can join as long as they register with the program.

Registration is mandatory. You only need to register once.

If interested in presenting a case, please let us know.

To register: fill out a registration form using the link below.

<https://app.smartsheet.com/b/form/cf6b597b721145e384942ce7c7a58735>

Attendance is free.

Please contact Dr Seshadri Balaji (balajis@ohsu.edu) or Hannah Holiman (holiman@ohsu.edu) for questions.