Question

HOW MANY PILLS DOES IT TAKE TO TREAT ONE PERSON WITH DRUG-RESISTANT TB?

Answer

14,600 PILLS TO TREAT

IT CAN TAKE 14,600 PILLS TO TREAT ONE PERSON WITH DRUG-RESISTANT TB. IF YOU STACK UP THE # OF PILLS END-TO-END, THAT'S EQUIVALENT TO THE HEIGHT OF THE GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE.

TB can effect ANYONE and DOES NOT distinguish between rich or poor. People with COMPROMISED IMMUNE SYSTEMS are largely affected. e.g. THE ELDERLY AND CHILDREN.
