UCT PESTICIDE NETWORK NEWSLETTER

The Environmental Health division at UCT's School of Public Health and Medicine produces a newsletter to broadcast current issues related to pesticides to a wide range of individuals and stakeholders.

The intention of this newsletter is to provide a global-based forum for information-sharing with a particular focus on African countries (e.g., news, articles, and incidences), debates, and assisting in problem-solving related to pesticides (i.e. questions you may have). The use of "pesticides" throughout the newsletters includes all insecticides, fungicides, nematocides, acaricides, herbicides, biocides etc.
